PARTNERSHIPS

Why partner with us?

Like all great stories, ours starts with a humble beginning. We LOVE England was created in 2015 at a kitchen table in Germany by Anglophile, Simone Bach, simply to share her fondness for the country she adores through the medium of a Facebook page. It has been a labour of love and has steadily grown to attract a loyal, active and highly engaged social media following of 698,000 people across the globe.

As we've grown, our Facebook following has frequently asked for advice on planning trips, recommendations on where to stay, what to see and do. We've been listening, and with the We LOVE England website, we are giving them exactly that.

Everything on the site - from accommodation listings, to content and imagery - is carefully curated and hand-picked by our small, passionate and highly motivated team. By bringing on board ambassadors to showcase truly unique photography and articles, we are enhancing that user experience.

For our audience, we're providing destination guides that are written with real knowledge, honesty and heart. Our recommendations for places to see, stay and eat at are carefully chosen so those who follow them can enjoy a genuinely wonderful experience.

For our promotional partners, we're offering bespoke campaigns, flexible pricing, and an understanding approach as we all move through these challenging times. Our experienced team will work with you to help promote your business to our over half a million-strong audience.

As the tourism industry emerges from the impact of Covid-19, our mission is two-fold: to play our part in restoring England as a destination again and to empower our partners to feel confident about the future.

By partnering with We LOVE England, you can:

- Significantly raise the profile of your business to a brand new audience of over half a million people, driving your sales and growth.
- Put your offering in front of a highly engaged audience within your chosen markets.
- Launch your business in new markets including the United States, Europe and beyond.
- Feel confident that who you've partnered with is engaged and supportive. We'll keep in touch with you as much or as little as you like.

Meet the team

For a long time, Simone ran the social media channels with great love, but she reached a point where she wanted to bring in more expertise in order for We LOVE England to bloom from a Facebook page to a successful business - without losing sight of what had become important for both her and the We LOVE England following. Now, we're a work family of five like-minded people whose expertise lies in marketing, software development, business management and the tourism industry. Meet the friendly folk behind We LOVE England...

SIMONE BACH

I fell in love with England the first time I went to London in the 80s, when I was a teenager. Back in the day, England for me was the land where so many of my music heroes came from. These days I appreciate other things like the cosy pubs, historical buildings, stunning landscapes and the British people with their mix of humour, politeness and quirkiness!

Next destination?

Cumbria and Northumberland.

JOHN DOWNER

Originally born in Wales, my family relocated to South Devon when I was 9, and it's been amazing growing up surrounded by all the incredible beauty the south west of England has to offer. Having worked for over 30 years as an operations manager, I started my own business at the start of 2017 providing coaching and mentoring support to small businesses.

Next destination?

Cornwall.

ALEX GRAEME

I've been a tour guide since 2013 when I created Unique Devon Tours. Winning the Top UK Guide award at the Wanderlust World Guide of the Year Awards in 2018 has been a highlight. Being a guide and a photographer combines perfectly with being a part of We LOVE England, since I thrive in the world of tourism, and fully understand the appeal of this amazing country.

Next destination?

The Isles of Scilly.

JAMES HOOPER

Before retraining as a software developer I worked in various sales, marketing, retail and educational roles within the leisure, hospitality and travel industries. I've been lucky to have travelled extensively in the UK and worldwide and I lived and worked in Turkey and Mexico. However, I have always returned to the Devon village I first made my home over 30 years ago.

Next destination?

The Lake District.

KAT WHITE

Half Dane, half Brit, my love for travel started at an early age. Since then, I lived in Australia and New Zealand for seven years before returning to Devon, where family life by the sea was a call too great to resist. My 18 years in marketing - particularly in the travel and tourism sector - have enabled me to explore some wonderfully remote parts of the UK.

Next destination?

The Yorkshire Dales and coast.
